THE telegraph brings news of a desperate scheme by the Democratic managers to carry Ohio, by means of imported bullies and repeaters from Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Chicago and other cities. The repeaters from Philadelphia boast openly of their destination, and of the object they go to accomplish.

We had a call this morning from John W. January, of Miamion, who has been here attending the reunion of ex-prisoners of war. Mr. January lost both of his feet while in Andersonville, from gangrene. He besought the surgeon to amputate his feet, but in vain, and they literally rotted off, to himself cutting the tendons which alone held them, with a common pocket knife borrowed from a fellow prisoner. He now manages to hobble along on artificial feet, but he stoutly protests that he does not intend to vote for Hancock.

THE Review is troubled because we do not deny the Grant-Fowler interview about Hancock. We have not denied the truth of the interview because there is no need to deny it—it is substantially true. The story of Order No. 40, according to Gen. Grant, was told to Dr. Fowler substantially as it appeared in print. As corroborative evidence we may cite the fact that some days ago, before the publication of the Fowler interview, a gentleman who had received the information from General Grant himself, told in the hearing of the writer all the main points of the story, even including Hancock's paupers' remark that he was "opposed to bigger domination." Does the Review want any more of the story?

ITS SUCCESS.

The reunion is over, and every unprejudiced man must admit that it was a grand success. The labors performed by the various committees produced the most satisfactory results, and we would be only too glad to make special mention of each and every one who contributed to bring them about but that would necessitate the publication of many hundred names, and is of course impractical.

But while it might be thought invidious to single out individuals it is only proper to recognize the valuable assistance of Mayor Waggoner and Charles H. Fuller, upon whose shoulders a larger portion of the work fell. Both labored incessantly, and are entitled to the thanks of the public, for without their efforts there could have been no such magnificent success.

WHEREVER Lyman Trumbull goes as the champion of Democracy, these words, uttered by him only a few years ago, haunt him like the ghost of a truth which he is now vainly attempting to put out of the way:

The Democratic party has never yet done an act that would command it to the favorable consideration of the people of the United States, but, on the contrary, its traditions and its acts are now, and ever have been, a standing menace to the progress and civilization of the nineteenth century.

A STAR.

74 men, belonging to 74 different regiments, marched in one company yesterday, in the grand procession, and one of the 74 informs us to-day that there was not one Hancock man in the lot.

Again in Business.

The many friends and patrons of Dr. J. T. Hubbard will be pleased to learn that he has again embarked in the drug business at his old stand, at No. 69 North Water street, having but recently purchased the stock of goods lately owned by Dr. J. Maine &amp; Son. The new proprietor has expended considerable cash in adding to the stock, which is now complete in every department. Those desiring pure drugs and medicines, paints, oils and varnishes, and physicians prescriptions filled carefully at any time, should give Dr. Hubbard a call. Remember the place, No. 69 North Water street. Oct 4-5d

The farm house of F. M. Browning, near Elm Grove School House, was broken into by burglars on yesterday while the members of the family were in Decatur, and robbed of three watches and other valuables. The contents of every drawer and box in the house were disturbed, and everything was mussed and kicked about the rooms.

The Celebrated Bethesda Mineral water in quantities to suit customers, at Hubbard &amp; Swearingen, sole agents. Oct 8-1d

A BOLD thief on yesterday morning at the breakfast hour, made a tour of the rooms at Priest's Hotel, where scraggards slept, and "gathered in" $150.00 in cash, extracted from the clothing of guests of the hotel. The doors of the sleeping apartments were unlocked, and the crowd was so great that the robbery was an easy matter, under the circumstances. The thief was identified, but he escaped with his booty.
